DIPLOMAS OF THE ROYAL IRISH ACADEMY OF MUSIC
ASSOCIATE (ARIAM)/LICENTIATE (LRIAM)

The Royal Irish Academy of Music Diploma programmes are intended to provide a framework for the development of performing and teaching skills and to address the needs of many musicians. Having achieved this validation, successful candidates will have greatly enhanced their reputation and employment opportunities and the assurance provided, both for performers and teachers, will inspire greater confidence and personal satisfaction.

A warm welcome to all aspiring candidates and we wish you every success!

Age Limits

Candidates for both Teaching Diplomas must be over eighteen years of age on 1st July for June/July examination session and 31st December for the November/December examination session. There is no age limit for the Performance Diploma.

Examination Structure

The Diploma of Associate/Licentiate Teacher or Performer can be entered by extern and intern students.

Candidates entering The Diploma of Associate Teacher or Performer and The Diploma of Licentiate Teacher may present themselves for examination in both components i.e. Musicianship and Practical in one examination session or may wish to present themselves for one component at a time within the given time frame. (Please note in the Musicianship component, candidates must enter the entire component - Sections I & II on first entry). If a candidate fails either of the Musicianship sections, they must re-take the relevant 'failed' section within the time frame outlined below and an exemption will be given for the section in which the candidate has passed.

It is the candidate's responsibility to adhere to the current syllabus including any amendments.

Time Frame for completing an Associate Diploma

The time frame for completion of the entire Diploma dating from the candidate's first attempt is four years. While there are two examination periods per academic year, a student may only sit each component a maximum of four times within the four year time frame.

Exemption will be granted in the section or sections of the examination in which candidates are successful for a period of four years from first entering. Exemptions will automatically become invalid should candidates not successfully attain a diploma within the given time frame.

Time Frame for completing a Licentiate Diploma

The time frame for completion of the entire Diploma dating from the candidate's first attempt is two years.

Exemption will be granted in the section or sections of the examination in which candidates are successful for a period of two years from first entering. Exemptions will automatically become invalid should candidates not successfully attain a diploma within the given time frame.

Guidelines for entering ARIAM (Teacher & Performer)

- Candidates are advised to have attained at least Grade 8 with a mark of 85% or more with RIAM Local Centre or comparable exam board.

Guidelines for entering LRIAM (Teacher & Performer)

- Candidates are advised to have attained an ARIAM or equivalent recognised diploma or to have attained an equivalent standard through their professional experience.

Examination Dates

Examinations are held at the Royal Irish Academy of Music twice yearly during June/July and November/December. [Please note that Diploma examinations are only held at the Royal Irish Academy of Music].

Entry forms and details of fee structure are available from the General Office, RIAM 36-38 Westland Row, Dublin 2.

Entry form and full fees should be received by the General Office not later than:

- 4.00 pm on May 1st for the June/July examination session
- 4.00 pm on October 10th for the November/December examination session

Should either of these dates fall on a weekend or Bank Holiday the deadline for entries will close on the previous Friday at 4.00 pm. No late entries will be accepted.

Accompanists

All candidates must provide their own accompanists. The RIAM can provide a list of approved accompanists and fee structures if required. Applications for this must be made to the General Office, in writing, at the time of entry.

Examination Notification

Candidates must attend for examination on the date/time shown on their letter of notification.

Notifications will be sent at least two weeks prior to examination date. The RIAM must be notified of any unavailable dates which the candidates may have within the examination period. This must be done, in writing, at the time of application. Although no guarantee can be given, the RIAM will endeavour to accommodate candidate's requests wherever possible.

Conduct of Examinations

Please note the following:

- i Photocopies of music texts may not be used in examinations unless prior written permission has been obtained from the publisher, in which case the permission must be shown to the examiner before the exam. Any other exceptions (e.g. copying a single page for difficult page turns etc.) should be in line with the Code of Fair Practice (1992) published by the Music Publishers' Association (3rd Floor, Strandgate, 18-20 York Building London WC2N 6JU).
- ii Examiners reserve the right to hear all or part of each prepared work.
- iii Candidates may be required to provide proof of identification when presenting themselves for examination.
- iv The pass mark in the Aural section is 60%. The pass mark in all other sections is 75%. Candidates who receive a mark of 85% or over in all sections are deemed to have passed with Honours.

Absence

Candidates who are unable to attend due to unforeseen circumstances should inform the General Office immediately. Any candidate failing to attend the examination(s) on the day and time appointed will forfeit the entry fee. In cases of serious illness/injury candidates will be allowed to re-enter within a twelve month period on payment of a registration fee of €50.00, provided written notification is received within 14 days of the scheduled₄ examination, accompanied by a medical certificate. In other cases of re-entry the full fee must be paid although the RIAM will be sympathetic to bona fide cases in which appropriate evidence is provided.

Results

The results of the examination with particulars of the marks gained will be forwarded to candidates as soon as possible. Diploma certificates for successful candidates will be forwarded with the examination results. Correspondence will not be entered into in any circumstance regarding the decision of the examiners, which must, in every case, be considered final.

Use of Letters

Successful candidates will have the right to use the following letters after their names:

Associate A.R.I.A.M

Licentiate L.R.I.A.M

Associate Examination Structure:

The Diploma in all Instruments is divided into three Sections, which are as follows:

		Maximum Marks	Pass Mark
Section 1	Theoretical Papers (2)	200	150
Section II	Aural Tests	100	60
Section III	Practical	200	150

Section I - Theoretical [200 Marks]

Teaching - Viva Voce [60 Marks]

Please refer to pages 18 - 19 for Teaching Questions and Viva Voce Samples.

TEACHING QUESTIONS

Teaching Questions - Viva Voce [60 Marks]

The purpose of this section is to assess the candidate's knowledge and understanding of the principles of teaching and, more importantly, to assess the candidate's ability to communicate these principles both verbally and through musical demonstration.

The areas covered by these principles include; posture; tone-production; articulation (legato, staccato, slurs, etc); breathing and diaphragm; alternative fingerings; phrasing; scales; exercises; coordination; practice-methods and practice-planning; lesson-planning; motivation; the usefulness, or otherwise, of exams, competitions and concerts.

Candidates will be required to demonstrate an understanding of musical styles and interpretation of notation in order to encourage stylistically aware performances from their students.

Candidates will be required to display a good knowledge of repertoire suitable for all stages of a pupil's development ranging in standard from Grades I to VIII and historically from all periods of composition for the instrument. Credit will be given to candidates who can, from memory, quote excerpts from the pieces cited. A good knowledge of the available Tutors, Primers and exercise books will also be expected.

Candidates will be required to answer simple questions on the mechanism of the instrument and to explain, as to a pupil, the routine maintenance of the instrument and how lack of maintenance might affect the functionality of the instrument. Candidates should also be able to display knowledge of reed manufacture in appropriate cases.

The tone and manner of the viva voce will be as relaxed as possible with the focus being on discovering what the candidates knows rather than what they don't know. Candidates should be prepared to act as a teacher to one of the examiners for the purpose of illustrating a teaching principle. The principles of successful teaching are not cast in stone and there will rarely be a single 'right' answer to a question posed by the examiners. The examiners will be looking for a practical and personal approach combining intelligent problem solving with the ability to engage and motivate pupils. Teaching experience is not a prerequisite, however a candidate's practical knowledge is invariably greatly enhanced through having had this 'hands on' experience.

Sample Viva Voce Questions

Please note that the purpose of these questions is to give prospective candidates a general idea of what to expect in the viva voce section. These questions are by no means exhaustive and are only a representative sample.

- How would you conduct the first lesson for, say, a six-year-old child? What areas would you cover? Do you check the teeth development and how would you check for size?
- How would you teach a beginner proper care and assembly of the instrument?
- What opinion do you have on smaller sized instruments such as pocket trumpets, curved head-joints, $\frac{3}{4}$ sized horns, trombone extension handles etc?
- What books would you recommend for a young beginner, and what follow-up books?
- What sort of questions would you ask the parents of a young beginner?
- Would you encourage parents of young beginners sitting in on lessons? If so, what, if any guidelines would you set down?
- How do you teach the concepts of breath support and diaphragm use?

- Describe the main types of articulations and when you would introduce them.
- If appropriate, how and when would you introduce vibrato?
- How would you teach and encourage good practice techniques?
- How would you motivate a talented student that is losing interest?

Licentiate Examination Structure:

LRIAM - Teacher

The Teaching Diploma in all instruments is divided into three sections, which are as follows:

	Maximum Marks	Pass Mark
Section I Theoretical Papers (2)	200	150
Section II Aural Tests	100	60
Section III Practical	200	150

LRIAM - Performer

The Performer Diploma in all instruments has one section; there are no written or aural requirements for these diplomas.

	Maximum Marks	Pass Mark
Section III Practical	200	150

Section I - Theoretical [200 Marks]

Paper I: Rudiments, Harmony and Counterpoint - 3 hour Paper [100 Marks]

Harmony and Counterpoint

A knowledge of common chords and dominant 7ths, diminished (including VIIb) and augmented chords with their inversions. The use of diatonic 7ths, suspensions, auxiliary and passing notes. Modulation to nearly related keys.

Using the above resources the candidate may be required:

- (i) To complete a Chorale Harmonisation for SATB. This question is obligatory.
- (ii) To write a simple piano accompaniment to a straightforward melody such as a folk song or carol.

or

- (iii) To add a second melodic part above or below a given part.

Score Reading

Advanced questions in notation, clefs, keys, transposition, intervals, triads, ornaments, instruments of the Orchestra. These questions to be based on a score extract.

Paper II: Form, Analysis and History - 2 hour Paper [100 Marks]

- (i) History and form from the 16th to the 20th centuries. A choice of questions will be given under the following headings: orchestral works, chamber music, keyboard music, opera, song. Candidates will be expected to attempt one question on form and two questions on the subjects outlined above.
- (ii) Analysis and comment on an unprepared piece, a copy of which will be supplied at the examination.

SECTION II - AURAL TESTS [100 Marks]

- 1 To recognise major, minor and diminished triads with their inversions and the augmented triad on the treble or bass stave (triads played in close position; each played twice).
- 2 To write, from dictation, an eight bar-melody which uses simple or compound time signatures, in major and minor keys, which will be played by the examiner as follows: twice through complete; then first phrase of four bars twice, then second phrase of four bars twice; then finally twice through complete. Key and time signature will be stated, and tonic chord and key note will be sounded before each playing.
- 3 To write down the bass line of a harmonised chorale (two bars in length), in major or minor keys, which will be played four times by the examiner. Key and time signature will be stated and the tonic chord and key note will be sounded before each playing.
- 4 To recognise the chords used in a four-part passage of about four chords, in major and minor keys, which will be played four times by the examiner. Any common chords and dominant sevenths with their inversion prescribed for Paper One may be included. Key will be stated and tonic chord and key note will be sounded before each playing. Candidates will be required to indicate the chords used by writing down the appropriate chord symbols and to name the final cadence.
- 5 To recognise modulations from a given key to dominant, sub-dominant or relative minor or major keys (played twice).
- 6 The recognition of the form or style of three different extracts. One extract will relate to form the other two extracts to relate to style and instrumentation. This test will be played twice to the candidate by disc or other means.

TEACHING QUESTIONS

Teaching - Viva Voce [60 Marks]

The purpose of this section is to assess the candidate's knowledge and understanding of the principles of teaching and, more importantly, to assess the candidate's ability to communicate these principles both verbally and through musical demonstration.

The areas covered by these principles include; posture; tone-production; articulation (legato, staccato, slurs, etc); breathing and diaphragm; alternative fingerings; phrasing; scales; exercises; coordination; practice-methods and practice-planning; lesson-planning; motivation; the usefulness, or otherwise, of exams, competitions and concerts.

Candidates will be required to demonstrate an understanding of musical styles and interpretation of notation in order to encourage stylistically aware performances from their students.

Candidates will be required to display a good knowledge of repertoire suitable for all stages of a pupil's development ranging in ability from beginner to Senior Certificate and historically from all periods of composition for the instrument. Credit will be given to candidates who can, from memory, quote excerpts from the pieces cited. A good knowledge of the available Tutors, Primers and exercise books will also be expected.

Candidates will be required to answer simple questions on the mechanism of the instrument and to explain, as to a pupil, the routine maintenance of the instrument and how lack of maintenance might affect the functionality of the instrument. Candidates should also be able to display knowledge of reed manufacture in appropriate cases.

The tone and manner of the viva voce will be as relaxed as possible with the focus being on discovering what the candidates knows rather than what they don't know. Candidates should be prepared to act as a teacher to one of the examiners for the purpose of illustrating a teaching principle. The principles of successful teaching are not cast in stone and there will rarely be a single 'right' answer to a question posed by the examiners. The examiners will be looking for a practical and personal approach combining intelligent problem solving with the ability to engage and motivate pupils. Teaching experience is not a prerequisite, however a candidate's practical knowledge is invariably greatly enhanced through having had this 'hands on' experience.

Sample Viva Voce Questions

Please note that the purpose of these questions is to give prospective candidates a general idea of what to expect in the viva voce section. These questions are by no means exhaustive and are only a representative sample.

- How would you conduct the first lesson for, say, a six-year-old child? What areas would you cover? Do you check the teeth development and how would you check for size?
- How would you teach a beginner proper care and assembly of the instrument?
- What opinion do you have on smaller sized instruments such as pocket trumpets, curved head-joints, $\frac{3}{4}$ sized horns, trombone extension handles etc?
- What books would you recommend for a young beginner, and what follow-up books?
- What sort of questions would you ask the parents of a young beginner?
- Would you encourage parents of young beginners sitting in on lessons? If so, what, if any guidelines would you set down?
- How do you teach the concepts of breath support and diaphragm use?
- Describe the main types of articulations and when you would introduce them.

- If appropriate, how and when would you introduce vibrato?
- How would you teach and encourage good practice techniques?
- How would you motivate a talented student that is losing interest?
- Design a 15 minute programme for a stated grade and a stated age?
- Outline a study book course to cover grades 3 through to Senior Certificate?
- How do you prepare a student in the preparation of a new piece? What background information should the student know about the music in advance?
- What are the typical inadequacies of a poor embouchure? Give remedies and suggest exercises to maximise progress?
- Explain the function of the diaphragm in wind playing.
- Why is good knowledge of Form essential to the art of interpretation?
- Why are scales and study books so important in developing technique and performance skills?
- Explain the steps needed to make a good reed and not a bad one?
