INTRODUCTION

WELCOME FROM THE DIRECTOR

Since its commencement in 2014/15, the Diploma in Music Teaching and Performance (DipMus) has proven popular with advanced school leavers interested in concentrating on performing and with early- or mid-career professionals who wish to refresh their practice by developing new skills. The DipMus has undergone a number of enhancements, designed to optimise the student experience and to allow for candidates to curate their individual learning plan.

As well as being a one-year full-time course, the DipMus can now be taken part-time over two years, giving candidates the opportunity to develop their skills over an extended period. The part-time course is well suited to professional applicants, especially teachers who wish to develop their pedagogical skills in tandem with their professional activities.

Candidates can now specialise in one of two pathways: a performance pathway or a pedagogy pathway. Candidates select modules to reflect their decision at application and audition time.

A substantial development is the creation of a certificate course (CertMus), which is an equivalent to Year One of the part-time Diploma. Candidates now have an option to complete a one-year certificate, providing training and development for professional applicants, both performers and teachers, who are unable to commit to two years of continuous study. This one-year part-time course leads to an award of CertMus, which can be recognised in their workplace. Students who successfully complete the CertMus course may also progress immediately to the Diploma (top-up) in Year Two without collecting the award. Additionally, students who exit with a CertMus award will also have the option to rescind it and return within five years to pursue the Diploma Year 2 (top-up).

There are many options and pathways in this Diploma/Certificate in Music Teaching and Performance course, reflecting both the flexibility required in our modern world and the different paces at which we learn. At the heart of the course remains the importance that both RIAM and TCD place on life-long learning, keeping our passion for teaching and performance alive and developing new skills in order to stay motivated and to thrive in music.

Student Support Leaders are happy to be contacted to offer informal guidance and support. For a list of student support leaders, see the Student Support pages on Moodle (login required) and posters in the Common room.

EQuita Resolution Pathway (ERP)

The Royal Irish Academy of Music (RIAM) is dedicated to fostering a safe and respectful learning environment for all students. We are now working with EQuita Consulting Limited, providing an independent and confidential process called the EQuita Resolution Pathway (ERP).

Students can now address complaints as defined by the RIAM Dignity and Respect policy through the EQuita Resolution Pathway (ERP), which is also reflected in our Student Code of Conduct and Student Complaints Policy.

The EQuita Resolution Pathway Service (ERP) is a three-stage process offered to help students resolve conflicts or grievances with an independent expert.

- Stage One: Facilitated Conversation An informal meeting with a psychologist or conflict resolution expert to discuss the issue and explore solutions.
- Stage Two: Mediation A neutral mediator helps both parties communicate and reach a mutually agreeable resolution.
- Stage Three: Full Investigation If the issue is serious, an external investigator conducts a formal investigation to determine the facts.

RIAM Disability Service and Educational Support Service

RIAM's disability support service is described in our Disability Support Service and Reasonable Accommodations Policy. RIAM has in place an educational support service, which is available to any student who has a health condition, a learning challenge, or a combination of both. We will organise the supports and accommodations that will enable you to make the most of your studies at RIAM. Students should initially reach out to the RIAM Office through the following email: roisinmurphy@riam.ie You will be given advice how to schedule a meeting with the TCD Disability Service Disability - Trinity Disability Service | Trinity College Dublin (tcd.ie). Thereafter, TCD will meet with you and steps will be taken to provide appropriate and suitable support to facilitate your study. A Learning Educational Needs Summary (LENS) will be drawn up with you in complete confidence, capturing the challenges that you experience and outlining the recommended supports and adaptations to the teaching and learning situation. All accommodations offered will be tailor-made for your specific situation and you can be assured that the document and its contents are completely confidential. Continuing students are always welcome to register with the Educational Supports Service at any stage of their studies and can do this by contacting the RIAM Office as outlined above.

PROGRAMME OVERVIEW

PROGRAMME AIMS

The aims of the programme are:

- To train students to a high level in performance and/or pedagogy, enabling them to qualify as instrumental/vocal teachers of the highest calibre suitable for teaching pupils at all levels on a one-to-one basis in established music institutions, or a peripatetic teacher(s) attached to either primary or secondary schools, or as community-based teacher(s) in private practice.
- To provide students with a wide musical knowledge through classes in performance, musicianship, and repertoire as well as seminars and masterclasses.
- To enhance their instrumental/vocal teaching skills through related studies of educational psychology, various musical pedagogies (e.g., Kodály and Dalcroze) and supervised teaching practice.
- To provide students with a broad experience of practical music-making, equipping them with the skills necessary to participate confidently in a wide variety of teaching performing situations from solo instrumental lessons to chamber music and larger ensemble coaching.

DIPLOMA IN MUSIC TEACHING AND PERFORMANCE

The Diploma in Music Teaching and Performance (DipMus) can be undertaken in two ways:

- 1. Full-time course over one year (60 ECTS)
- 2. Part-time course over two years (30 ECTS + 30 ECTS)

For the part-time course, there will be no mandatory allocation of modules in Year One or Two as all are stand-alone in nature. However, students must pass their chosen combination of 30 ECTS worth of modules in Year One on the part-time course in order to progress to Year Two.

CERTIFICATE IN MUSIC TEACHING AND PERFORMANCE

It is possible to undertake a Certificate in Music Teaching and Performance (CertMus) as part-time course over one year (30 ECTS). Having completed the course and passed modules amounting to 30 credits, students can opt for either of the following two options:

- 1. Graduate from the programme with a Certificate in Music Performance, Music Pedagogy, or Music Performance and Pedagogy. Students who exit the programme with a Certificate award have the option to rescind it and return within five years to pursue Year 2 of the DipMus course
- Progress to Year 2 of the part-time DipMus course, leading to the award of a Diploma in Music Teaching and Performance

PATHWAYS

Whether students are undertaking the DipMus or CertMus, they must choose one of two pathways:

- 1. Music Performance Pathway: all performance modules [a] and shared modules in grid below
- 2. Music Pedagogy Pathway: all pedagogy modules [b] and shared modules in grid below

Pedagogy Pathway Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of the pedagogy pathway, students should be able to:

- 1) Teach as instrumental/vocal specialists in a variety of settings from conservatoires to the private teaching environment and primary and secondary schools
- 2) Communicate a strong artistic vision, supported by a sound technique and effective teaching and learning strategies
- 3) Compose and analyse short exercises using a wide range of compositional techniques
- 4) Perform exercises that demonstrate awareness of the physical experience associated with movement
- 5) Control anxiety and stress in performance
- 6) Plan, reflect on and progress their careers as an instrumental or vocal teacher
- 7) Critically reflect and articulate the main principles of educational psychology, and various musical pedagogies (such as Kodály and Dalcroze)

ECTS CREDITS

The Education Area European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System [ECTS] is the recommended credit system for higher education in Ireland and across the European Higher Education Area. The ECTS weighting for a module is a measure of the student workload required for the module. This is the number of contact hours, lectures, seminars, projects, practical work, class preparation, self-study and examinations required to achieve the intended learning outcomes. 1 ECTS credit is equivalent to 20/25 hours of a typical student's work; i.e. a 10-credit module comprises 200/250 hours of work.

The credit rating for the DipMus programme is 60 credits. ECTS credits are awarded to a student only upon successful completion of the course year. Progression from one year to the next is determined by the course regulations. Students who fail the year will not obtain credits for that year even if they have passed certain component courses.

ACADEMIC PROGRESSION

The Board of Examiners will meet at the end of the year to moderate assignment marks from all modules, in order to record end-of-year results and to confirm each student's progression.

Students undertaking the two-year part-time DipMus must complete and pass their chosen combination of 30 ECTS worth of modules in Year One in order to progress to Year Two.

Students undertaking the one-year part-time CertMus must complete and pass modules amounting to 30 credits in order to progress to Year 2 of the part-time DipMus course. Alternatively, students who complete and pass modules amounting to 30 credits can exit the programme with a CertMus. They will have the option to rescind it and return within five years to pursue Year 2 of the DipMus course.

Piano Assessment Syllabus

Mid-year Examination: Technical Requirements

Please note: Pedagogy major candidates should prepare section 2 only (Study or scales)

- 1. At least two technically demanding studies by composers such as Czerny, Cramer, Moscheles, Moszkowski, Chopin etc., in which scale and passage-work occurs. The range of studies should reflect a balanced testing of independence, dexterity, fluency, stamina and control of finger technique in both hands.
- 2. Either one study in thirds or one study in octaves or the following scales and arpeggios:

Scales: Major, melodic and harmonic minor scales in all keys, hands an octave apart and a third apart, legato and staccato, similar motion, four octaves;

Major and harmonic minor scales in all keys, contrary motion, two octaves;

Major scales in double thirds in all keys, separate hands, two octaves; Major scales in double octaves in all keys, similar motion, two octaves.

Arpeggios: Major and minor common chords, root position and inversions, four octaves;

Dominant and diminished 7th chords, root position only, four octaves.

- 3. Sight Reading: To play at sight a short piece, the music of which will be made available to the candidate 10 minutes in advance of the examination.
- 4. Quick Memorisation: To perform a solo work from memory the music of which will be made available to the candidate one week before the examination

End-of-year Examination: Repertoire Requirements

A free choice programme of 20-25 minutes' duration for Performance majors and 10-15 for Pedagogy majors. Written (c. 600 words) or verbal (max. 5 mins) programme notes are required

Strings Faculty

One-to-one Lessons

Performance Pathway students receive a 60-minute lesson x 30 weeks.

Pedagogy Pathway students receive either a 40-minute lesson x 30 weeks or 60 minutes x 20 weeks, in agreement with their Principal Study teacher.

Performance Classes

Led by a specialist tutor, each class combines live performance, critical listening and peer learning in a group setting. The class simulates and explores different types of performance e.g. solo, audition, chamber, Historical Performance, contemporary. Performers are expected to give spoken introductions on works performed, showing background research and their approach to performance. Listeners are expected to give constructive feedback and develop their critical listening and self-reflection skills. Peer learning is a fundamental part of performance class. Classes include discussion elements, where performance, rehearsal and practice techniques are explored. The tutor leads feedback and discussion rather than being the sole giver of feedback (as they would in a masterclass). There are designated rehearsals with piano for students who sign up to perform in accompanied classes. Class content, sign-up sheets and score upload are available on Moodle in advance. Students should ensure they are prepared for each class as required and should sign up to perform with repertoire appropriate for the class type. All students are expected to sign up to perform a minimum of once per semester. Full attendance is expected for Performance Pathway Students. Pedagogy Pathway students attend a selection of classes.

Mid-Year Exams

Mid-year exams consist of technical tests. Syllabi, specific for each instrument, are listed on the following pages. All scales/technical exercises must be played from memory. Students are encouraged to additionally perform their studies from memory. Performance Pathway students should prepare all listed requirements. Pedagogy Pathway students should prepare scales/technical exercises only.

End-of-Year Recitals

End-of-year recital syllabi, specific for each instrument, are listed on the following pages. Strings students have no specific memory requirements for end-of-year recitals, however, are advised to perform works from memory where this is standard practice, for example concerti, virtuoso pieces and solo Bach. Playing works from sheet music when it is standard practice to perform from memory may indicate to the panel a lower level of preparation, and this is considered when awarding the overall mark.

Overview of end-of-year durations and requirements:

	Minimum actual playing	Maximum overall duration, including all breaks between works	Programme notes (written or spoken)
Performance Pathway	15 minutes	20 minutes	Not required
Pedagogy Pathway	10 minutes	15 minutes	Not required

All recitals are strictly timed. Students who play below or above the listed durations will incur penalties. Duration Penalties: Students who play under the minimum or over the maximum duration in an end-of-year recital will incur the following penalties: an initial 3 marks will be deducted followed by an increase of 1 mark per minute up to a maximum of 10 marks.

PERFORMANCE CLASSES: BAROQUE / ORATORIO REPERTOIRE

Module Code	PSY1VB
ECTS	Performance Strand: 20
	Pedagogy Strand: 15
Module Learning	On successful completion of this module, students should be able to: 3A, 14A, 3B, 4C, 8C, 14C
Outcomes
Module Content	This performance class will examine a broad array of practical issues relating to the performance of baroque vocal repertoire and oratorio. Repertoire to be studied in class will include songs and arias in English and Italian from the 16th, 17th and 18th centuries, Lute Songs in English and Italian, and oratorio solos and ensemble repertoire as appropriate to the developing voice.
	Class tutors will encourage reflection on the stylistic aspects of music found in this era and the fundamentals of baroque ornamentation and style. Students will be encouraged by the class tutors to develop their imagination in the interpretation of the repertoire. They will learn how to express the meaning of the text through sensitivity of emotional expression and nuances of language.
	Students will learn platform/presentation skills and the ability to constructively critique their own and other's performances, creating a constructive learning environment.
	There will be two class concerts during the year in which students will present repertoire for examination by the class tutor and the head of faculty or her/his nominee. These concerts will be performed for a small audience.
Teaching and Learning Methods	Weekly performance classes allow students to perform to and rece feedback from other tutors and their peers.
	The students learn how to collaborate with a pianist as a duo partner in the performance of baroque and oratorio repertoire.
	There may also be opportunities to perform with small ensembles or solo obligato instruments.

Wind, Brass and Percussion Faculty

A generous amount of time has been set aside for focus on Principal Study through one-to-one lessons with a student's Principal Study teacher.

Performance Classes

Led by a specialist tutor, each class combines live performance, critical listening and peer learning in a group setting. The class simulates and explores different types of performance e.g. solo, audition, chamber, Historical Performance, contemporary. Performers are expected to give spoken introductions on works performed, showing background research and their approach to performance. Listeners are expected to give constructive feedback and develop their critical listening and self-reflection skills. Peer learning is a fundamental part of performance class. Classes include discussion elements, where performance, rehearsal and practice techniques are explored. The tutor leads feedback and discussion rather than being the sole giver of feedback (as they would in a masterclass). There are designated rehearsals with piano for students who have signed up to perform in accompanied classes.

Class content, sign-up sheets and score upload is available on Moodle in advance. Students should ensure they are prepared for each class as required and should sign up to perform with repertoire appropriate for the class type. All students are expected to sign up to perform a minimum of once per semester. Full attendance is expected for assigned performance classes.

Mid-Year Exams

Mid-year exams consist of technical tests and syllabi (specific for each instrument) which are listed on the following pages. All scales must be played from memory.

End-of-Year Recitals

All end-of-year recitals consist of free-choice programmes.

Wind, Brass and Percussion students have no specific memory requirements for end-of-year recitals, however playing from memory is encouraged.

Overview of end-of-year durations and requirements:

	Minimum actual playing	Maximum overall duration, including all breaks between works	Programme notes (written or spoken)
DipMus Performance	15 minutes	20 minutes	Not required
DipMus Pedagogy	10 minutes	15 minutes	Not required

All recitals are strictly timed. Students who play below or above the listed durations will incur penalties.

Duration Penalties: Students who play under the minimum or over the maximum duration in an end-of-year recital will incur the following penalties: an initial 3 marks will be deducted followed by an increase of 1 mark per minute up to a maximum of 10 marks.

Module Content	Students will establish the core of good technique. In some instances, significant technical corrections may be required, and the mid-year technical exam is a target for this. Lessons will not only focus on repertoire and technical work but will develop practice strategies for focussed improvement and set structured goals in preparation for assessments. The repertoire required for the end-of-year recital considers that significant technical adjustments may have been made and expects students to perform with fluency.

Module Content	String Ensemble: All bowed string students in years 1 and 2 come together weekly to explore and rehearse core string orchestral repertoire. The ensemble is driven by a real-world focus on instilling skills required to build a career and to thrive in the profession. Autumn term rehearsals culminate in an end of semester concert. There will be a 4-day immersive strings project in week zero of the Spring term starting 6th January. Baroque and New Music sessions will take place during String Ensemble in the Spring Semester. There will be a Side-by-Side with professional musicians focus during these sessions. Chamber Music: Chamber music is central to developing both listening and communication skills – requiring deep listening, responsiveness to interwoven parts and adaptability in role. Through chamber music, students also develop vital interpersonal skills, including relationship building, the ability to persuade and sharing of responsibilities.
	Orchestra: The RIAM presents three orchestral spotlight weeks each year with an additional week featuring orchestra as part of an RIAM opera production. Students participate in a screened audition process at the beginning of the academic year. Placements are then allocated to orchestral projects. Students prepare for each project through independent preparation, instrument-specific sectionals, tutti sectionals with a rehearsal conductor and rehearsals and concert with a visiting conductor. Orchestral modules often take place on Friday mornings, please note that these sessions are mandatory.

Module Content	Students will be provided with the opportunity to explore Flamenco music and the critical role that the guitar plays in it. They will be introduced to a brief history of the artform and its cultural significance and influence, particularly on the Spanish composers of the 19th and early 20th centuries. They will be provided with an overview of the various Flamenco forms (palos) with particular focus on 2-3 palos. Within this context they will not only learn the unusual rhythmic cycles and harmonic differences with separate the palos, but each guitarist will learn the special palmas (hand claps) which accompany each selected palo and how these can be layered in an ensemble setting to great effect. Particular focus will be given to the many technical aspects of Flamenco guitar playing: Rasgueado (strumming techniques), alzapúa (thumb technique), picado, tremolo etc; how they are integrated into the flamenco palos, and how they may differ from classical guitar technique.

Contexts for Performing

Module Code	ACY1K
ECTS	5
Module Learning Outcomes	 On successful completion of this module, students should be able to: demonstrate a broad understanding of the evolution of music history pertaining to Western Classical Music, Popular Music and Irish Traditional Music differentiate between composers/prominent exponents and styles of the periods/genres studied and evaluate the different aesthetic approaches taken engage critically with recordings from the periods/genres studied and demonstrate knowledge of the repertoire through analysis and commentary demonstrate knowledge of various methodological approaches to the type of music studied understand and develop an awareness of different social, historical and cultural contexts
Module Content	This module will consist of three components: Western Classical Music History, Irish Traditional Music and Ethnomusicology. All students undertake Western Classical Music History. Students choose between Irish Traditional Music and Ethnomusicology. Western Classical Music History Modules in Years 1 and 2 provide an overview of the development of music from c. 1600 to 1945. Students will study the music through genre (Orchestral, Opera, etc.). While students will be introduced to significant composers and compositions that are considered to be part of the canon, they will also study the work of underrepresented composers in attempt to subject the canon to reasoned critique. The material will include in-depth discussion of the broader socio-political and cultural context. There will be a strong emphasis on engaging with scores were applicable, which will develop students' analytical skills as well as listening to recordings which will develop aural skills. Irish Traditional Music This course examines the following areas: • The uilleann piping tradition: its history, styles, ornamentation, repertoire, and prominent exponents. • Sean-nós singing: its song types, ornamentation, regional styles, prominent exponents. • The English Language song tradition in Ireland, including themes, Irish and international ballads, and political song.

Themes discussed include cultural nationalism, and current issues in the field of Irish traditional music studies. The course draws on sociological, political and historical factors in the music's development as well as examining features and aesthetics of sound, and performance practice.

Popular Music Studies

This component will cover the development of popular music from the mid-20th century to the present. Topics will include:

- The study of a number of representative genres and their cultural context and significance (e.g. rock, punk, hip-hop, etc.)
- Theoretical frameworks for the study of popular music –
 performativity, authenticity, theories of race, gender and identity, etc.
- Popular Music outside the Anglophone world
- The impact of technology, recording formats and the music video
- How to write about popular music

Teaching and Learning Methods

Western Classical Music History (Semesters 1 and 2)

This component is taught through weekly 1.5-hour lectures that include listening to music, analysing scores, and directed reading assignments.

Irish Traditional Music (Semester 1)

The Irish Traditional Music Strand will be taught through a series of 1-hour weekly lectures that focus on topics of the tradition, as outlined in the Module Content.

Popular Music Studies (Semester2)

Lectures will be taught through weekly lectures. Literature-based research and fieldwork will also contribute to the teaching and learning of this module.

Lectures will emphasise the development of the student's ability to differentiate regional styles and prominent exponents through aural engagement with recordings and video footage. Students are expected to take an active part in class discussion and will be assigned additional reading material on a regular basis to supplement the in-class learning.

Practical Musicianship

Module Code	APY1K
ECTS	5
Module Learning Outcomes	 On successful completion of this module, students should be able to: identify aurally, dictate and perform diatonic intervals, triads, basic chord progressions, melodic strands, simple two-part melodies and basic rhythms demonstrate an ability to identify form, style, genre, texture and instrumentation aurally understand the structure of the main forms and genres of the baroque and classical eras including fugue, sonata form, rondo form, theme and variations demonstrate an understanding of harmonic progressions, phrase and tonality through score annotation articulate their findings in a concise and clear manner both orally and in writing.
Module Content	This module will consist of two components: 1. Aural Awareness 2. Piano Repertoire Analysis Aural Awareness The aim of this component is to establish a basic level of aural competency and literacy so that the student can perceive, vocalise and dictate fundamental musical structures (melodic, harmonic and rhythmic) through reading and listening. Topics will include: • Sight singing: systematic training in sight singing based on the use of tonic solfa, involving a progression from simple diatonic major and minor tonalities to more complex melodies incorporating modulation and chromatic tones (single line & two-part). • Dictation: systematic instruction in both melodic and rhythmic dictation. The rhythmic dictation will involve the recognition of beats, division of beats and internal beat patterns in simple, compound, and irregular time signatures. The melodic dictation will progress from simple diatonic major and minor tonalities to more complex melodies incorporating modulation and chromatic tones (single line & two-part). The recognition of triads and chordal progressions. Both melodic and rhythmic dictation will be closely linked into and feed off the sight singing and sight clapping strands. • Form: the aural recognition of basic forms. • Musicianship: the performance of two-part canons, two-part vocal/orchestral excerpts from Mozart, Haydn etc. (i.e. Group performance/Sing one line and play the other).

Piano Repertoire Analysis

Students will learn to listen to music in an engaged and critical fashion as well as understanding the compositional and structural processes at work by critical analysis of a score. This module has strong cross-curricular links with Contexts for Performing, Music Creation and Principal Study.

This module will expose students to an array of core piano repertoire in the baroque and classical periods, broadening and deepening their understanding and listening experience whilst developing a critical analytical facility

Topics will include:

- Form: binary form, ternary form, minuet and trio, rondo, theme and variation, sonata form.
- Structural elements of music such as motif, phrase, period and sentence.
- Tonal relationships, recognition and labelling of cadences, chords and phrases.
- Emphasis on both score analysis and aural recognition of key features.
- Students will be encouraged to analyse works from their instrumental training creating a bridge between analysis and performance practice.

Teaching and Learning Methods

Aural Awareness

The aural awareness classes will run throughout both semesters for 1.5 hours per week. Student's aural skills will be developed through interactive exercises, performances, and ensemble work. Active class participation and weekly preparation of material is essential.

Piano Repertoire Analysis

This module will be taught in Semester 2 for 1 hour per week. Engaged listening and discussion will support students in developing their analytical skills and the required vocabulary to express their findings. This approach represents a cross-curricular link with the Aural Awareness component. In the Analysis strand, the aural competencies acquired in Aural awareness will be supported and developed by reference to the score. Students will learn to annotate the score, indicating the features discussed. Some simple analytical graphs or diagrams may be used to support students in succinctly exploring and articulating issues such as form, tonal relationships and modulation. Examples will be worked through in class with an emphasis on gradual skill development exploring core works of the piano repertory. Active class participation and weekly preparation of material is essential.

Module Code	AMY1K
Module Learning Outcomes	 On successful completion of this module, students should be able to: demonstrate an understanding of harmony realised through the writing of four-part tonal harmony for SATB and via figured bass. compose in a manner that evinces an understanding of melodic, rhythmic and harmonic control in basic two-part contrapuntal textures. demonstrate the ability to input notes, dynamics and articulations, edit, layout and optimize a computer-based score within notation software (e.g. MuseScore) extract musical examples from notation software for use in word processor/image-based programs (e.g. musical examples within an essay) and preparing parts for performance, including transposing scores. sequence MIDI information to create original compositions and backing tracks through the use of VST (Virtual Studio Technology) instruments. perform basic editing (extract selections, fades, volume and pan manipulation, effects sends/receives) within a Digital Audio Workstation. work towards becoming an independent user within a Digital Audio Workstation and develop proficient typesetting ability.
Module Content	This module will consist of two components: 1. Compositional Techniques 2. Digital Audio Fundamentals Compositional Techniques This component consists of two strands: • A systematic approach to the teaching of four-part tonal harmony beginning with the basic four-part chord, moving onto successful progressions involving an understanding of appropriate voice leading and forms of decoration. This will include the study of figured bass. • The study and consolidation of simple contrapuntal techniques in two parts. Topics will include: • Root, first and second inversion chords, the dominant seventh and its inversions, passing notes (accented and unaccented), suspensions and modulations to closely related keys. • Realisation of figured bass. • The writing of simple two-part counterpoint in vocal or instrumental idiom addressing imitation, rhythmic contrast, cycle of 5ths and modulation. • Harmonisation of a simple melody

Digital Audio Fundamentals

The module will provide a solid foundation in music technology, focusing on developing the skill set necessary for the production of user content (scores/worksheets/recordings) and creative pursuits (sequencing, composition). It has strong cross-curricular links with the Compositional Techniques course, and supports the Music History Module and Analysis Components.

This module consists of two components:

- Provide a step by step introduction to computer-based music notation software (e.g. MuseScore) to produce professionalstandard printed/digital musical scores and parts and content for essays/articles and other teaching materials.
- 2. Provide a step by step introduction to sequencing techniques of VST (Virtual Studio Technology) instruments to compose original compositions or arrange high-quality backing tracks.

Topics will include:

Basic typesetting in music notation software (note input, dynamics and articulations).

Figured-bass notation and typesetting lyrics (Solo songs/SATB). Transposition of scores and transposing instruments.

Score editing (layout and score optimization) and preparation of parts.

Extracting musical examples from notation software for use in a word processor/image-based program.

Sequencing in a Digital Audio Workstation through the use of VST instruments. Composition for video (TV Advertisement)
Creative mixing techniques in a Digital Audio Workstation

Teaching and Learning Methods

Both components are taught through a combination of weekly lectures and demonstrations. Students are expected to take an active part in the lectures and will be expected to undertake directed tasks.

Compositional Techniques

Four-Part tonal harmony: will be taught through a systematic, carefully graded and paced approach. Harmonic Vocabulary will be acquired through the study of harmonic analysis and figured bass and will also include singing, playing and the writing of exercises. Students will work through examples in class and receive weekly feedback on assignments to acquire the skills and secure the knowledge.

Counterpoint: The study and analysis of appropriate works from the Baroque era will form part of the learning. Students will work through examples in class, writing, listening and playing. Material will be carefully paced in a manner which builds up the core contrapuntal skills. Specific weekly skill-assignments with feedback will form part of the learning activity.

As far as is feasible, compositions (both in-progress and complete) will be performed in lectures. They will be explored in a student-led discussion in order to foster understanding and creativity whilst encouraging critique and imagination. Cross modular material will be utilised as appropriate, fostering connections with repertoire studied, particularly in the piano repertoire analysis strand and performance classes.

Students will complete regular assignments which will support the composition of their portfolio.

	Digital Audio Fundamentals The module involves weekly lectures and class demonstrations. Students are expected to take an active part in the lectures and will be expected to undertake directed tasks. The course content will be divided into two 5-week modules over a single semester. Computer Notation and Typesetting (e.g. MuseScore) Each week will focus on a systematic, guided approach, introducing a particular set of tools within the software. Digital Audio (Reaper/Ableton Live) Each week will focus on a systematic, guided approach, introducing a particular set of tools.

Module Learning Outcomes	 On successful completion of this module, students should be able to: demonstrate a broad understanding of the evolution of music history pertaining to Western Classical Music, Popular Music, and Irish Traditional Music differentiate between composers/prominent exponents and styles of the periods/genres studied and evaluate the different aesthetic approaches taken engage critically with recordings from the periods/genres studied and demonstrate knowledge of the repertoire through analysis and commentary demonstrate knowledge of various methodological approaches to the type of music studied understand and develop an awareness of different social, historical, and cultural contexts
Module Content	This module will consist of three components: Western Classical Music History, Irish Traditional Music and Ethnomusicology. All students undertake Western Classical Music History. Students choose between Irish Traditional Music and Ethnomusicology. Western Classical Music History Modules in Years 1 and 2 provide an overview of the development of music from c. 1600 to 1945. Students will study the music through genre (Orchestral, Opera, etc.). While students will be introduced to significant composers and compositions that are considered to be part of the canon, they will also study the work of underrepresented composers in attempt to subject the canon to reasoned critique. The material will include in-depth discussion of the broader socio-political and cultural context. There will be a strong emphasis on engaging with scores were applicable, which will develop students' analytical skills as well as listening to recordings which will develop aural skills. Irish Traditional Music This course examines the following areas: • The uilleann piping tradition: its history, styles, ornamentation, repertoire, and prominent exponents. • Sean-nós singing: its song types, ornamentation, regional styles, prominent exponents. • The English Language song tradition in Ireland, including themes, Irish and international ballads, and political song.

Themes discussed include cultural nationalism, and current issues in the field of Irish traditional music studies. The course draws on sociological, political and historical factors in the music's development as well as examining features and aesthetics of sound, and performance practice. Popular Music Studies This component will cover the development of popular music from the mid-20th century to the present. Topics will include: The study of a number of representative genres and their cultural context and significance (e.g. rock, punk, hip-hop, etc.) Theoretical frameworks for the study of popular music – performativity, authenticity, theories of race, gender and identity, Popular Music outside the Anglophone world The impact of technology, recording formats and the music video How to write about popular music Western Classical Music History (Semesters 1 and 2) Teaching and Learning This component is taught through weekly 1.5-hour lectures that include Methods listening to music, analysing scores, and directed reading assignments. Module Learning Outcomes	On successful completion of this module, students should be able to: Aural Development: • identify and deeply understand a range of musical sounds • understand and demonstrate a knowledge of the fundamental components of music through movement • gain a deeper understanding of two musical eras, which supports their performing of music from those periods • through sight-singing, improvisation, and a range of exercises, utilise their musical imagination and inner ear, while deepening the connection between vocal/aural abilities and instrumental playing Repertoire-based Analysis: Distinguish salient melodic, harmonic and rhythm details of compositions. Perceive connections between surface details and structural features. Develop a technical musical vocabulary. Demonstrate awareness of phrase length and pattern.
Module Content	Aural Development The aim of this component is to establish a fundamental level of deep aural competency and musical literacy so that every student can perceive, vocalise, play and dictate fundamental musical structures (melodic, harmonic, and rhythmic) through singing, playing, reading, listening, and improvising. Classes will be designed using of pre-agreed repertoire between the lecturer and the Head of Strings. Through this repertoire, the module will seek to develop the fundamentals concepts of music, including pulse, structure, form, phrasing, rhythm, pitch and pitch contour, cadences and harmony, and intonation. Repertoire-based Analysis This module introduces the Repertoire-based Analysis stream. Students explore the practical-theoretical process of examining compositions in order to discern, or decide, how they work. Students undertake two components: Introduction of basic analytical methods. Exploration of the relationship between form and content.

The English Language song tradition in Ireland, including themes, Irish and international ballads, and political song.
	Themes discussed include cultural nationalism, and current issues in the field of Irish traditional music studies. The course draws on sociological, political and historical factors in the music's development as well as examining features and aesthetics of sound, and performance practice. Popular Music Studies This component will cover the development of popular music from the mid-20th century to the present. Topics will include: The study of a number of representative genres and their cultural context and significance (e.g. rock, punk, hip-hop, etc.) Theoretical frameworks for the study of popular music – performativity, authenticity, theories of race, gender and identity, etc. Popular Music outside the Anglophone world The impact of technology, recording formats and the music video How to write about popular music Western Classical Music History (Semesters 1 and 2) Teaching and Learning This component is taught through weekly 1.5-hour lectures that include Methods listening to music, analysing scores, and directed reading assignments. Irish Traditional Music (Semester 1) The Irish Traditional Music Strand will be taught through a series of 1-hour weekly lectures that focus on topics of the tradition, as outlined in the Module Content. Popular Music Studies (Semester2) Lectures will be taught through weekly lectures. Literature-based research and fieldwork will also contribute to the teaching and learning of this module. Lectures will emphasise the development of the student's ability to differentiate regional styles and prominent exponents through aural engagement with recordings and video footage. Students are expected to take an active part in class discussion and will be assigned additional reading material on a regular basis to supplement the in-class learning. Assessment Details Assessment Assessment Description % of Total Component Western Classical Music History In-module 10 Academic Writing Assignment Assignment 1 Essay Preparation: Opera Presentation 10 In-module

Practical Musicianship

Module Code	APY1S
ECTS	5
Module Learning Outcomes	On successful completion of this module, students should be able to: Aural Development: identify and deeply understand a range of musical sounds understand and demonstrate a knowledge of the fundamental components of music through movement gain a deeper understanding of two musical eras, which supports their performing of music from those periods through sight-singing, improvisation, and a range of exercises, utilise their musical imagination and inner ear, while deepening the connection between vocal/aural abilities and instrumental playing Repertoire-based Analysis: Distinguish salient melodic, harmonic and rhythm details of compositions. Perceive connections between surface details and structural features. Develop a technical musical vocabulary. Demonstrate awareness of phrase length and pattern.
Module Content	 Aural Development Chord/Scale & Mode identification. Transcription. Sight singing. Identifying chord extensions. Interval recognition. Dictating chord progressions and melodic passages. Accurately perform and understand polyrhythms. Carnatic rhythmical exercises. Improvisation. Repertoire-based Analysis
	This module introduces the Repertoire-based Analysis stream. Students explore the practical-theoretical process of examining compositions in order to discern, or decide, how they work. Students undertake two components: Introduction of basic analytical methods. Exploration of the relationship between form and content.

Students will be challenged in sound recognition and given listening assignments. Students will learn terminology and study relevant theory to help catalogue and identify chords and extensions, scales and modes, progressions and cadences. Classes will examine rhythm and pulse and its practical implications across a range of musical styles. A strong emphasis will be placed on basic principles, so that students can progress to more advanced concepts. Students will work on an aural transcription project to be completed by the end of semester 2 - lessons will be interactive with use of vocalise, clapping, instrumental playing, and improvisational techniques. Repertoire-based Analysis The module is taught through participatory classes, held weekly. Students are expected to perform from a variety of scores, undertake directed tasks, and contribute to group discussions. Reading list: Repertoire-based Analysis

Music Creation

Module Code	AMY1S
ECTS	5
Module Learning	On successful completion of this module, students should be able to:
Outcomes	 Compositional Techniques: demonstrate a strong understanding of voice leading and orchestration, also strengthening their understanding of basic principles as performers, and improving their confidence in score reading. display a stronger knowledge of instruments other than their own. use the skills they learn to produce a 4-part arrangement in semester 1, and complete a short composition in semester 2. Digital Audio Fundamentals: demonstrate the ability to input notes, dynamics and articulations, edit, layout and optimize a computer-based score within notation software (e.g. MuseScore) extract musical examples from notation software for use in word processor/image-based programs (e.g. musical examples within an essay) and preparing parts for performance, including transposing scores. Sequence MIDI information to create original compositions and backing tracks through the use of VST (Virtual Studio Technology) instruments. perform basic editing (extract selections, fades, volume and pan manipulation, effects sends/receives) within a Digital Audio Workstation. work towards becoming an independent user within a Digital Audio Workstation and develop proficient typesetting ability.
Module Content	Compositional Techniques Each week one composer/style/concept will be in focus so that whilst students get the time to look closely at techniques and concepts, they will also over the weeks learn of how musical concepts developed over time. Score reading. Listening assignments. Historical context. Voice leading. Species counterpoint. Arranging for quartet. Composition.

Digital Audio Fundamentals

The module will provide a solid foundation in music technology, focusing on developing the skill set necessary for the production of user content (scores/worksheets/recordings) and creative pursuits (sequencing, composition). It has strong cross-curricular links with the Compositional Techniques course, and supports the Music History Module and Analysis Components.

This module consists of two components:

- 3. Provide a step by step introduction to computer-based music notation software (e.g. MuseScore) to produce professional-standard printed/digital musical scores and parts and content for essays/articles and other teaching materials.
- 4. Provide a step by step introduction to sequencing techniques of VST (Virtual Studio Technology) instruments to compose original compositions or arrange high-quality backing tracks.

Topics will include:

Basic typesetting in music notation software (note input, dynamics and articulations).

Figured-bass notation and typesetting lyrics (Solo songs/SATB).

Transposition of scores and transposing instruments.

Score editing (layout and score optimization) and preparation of parts. Extracting musical examples from notation software for use in a word processor/image-based program.

Sequencing in a Digital Audio Workstation through the use of VST instruments. Composition for video (TV Advertisement)
Creative mixing techniques in a Digital Audio Workstation

Teaching and Learning Methods

Both components are taught through a combination of weekly lectures and demonstrations. Students are expected to take an active part in the lectures and will be expected to undertake directed tasks.

Compositional Techniques

Each class will be based around 1 composer/style/concept, with the last portion of class assigned to voice leading and counterpoint exercises. The students will be required to submit one 4-part arrangement by end of Term 1, and a short original composition by end of Term 2. Classes will be oriented with these tasks in mind. Classes will be relevant to the repertoire the students are performing in orchestral and chamber music settings. Students will be asked at certain points to act as 'spokesperson' for their primary instrument in relation to extended techniques and the associated technical considerations for their instrument - including ornamentation, melodic writing, and sectional blending.

Digital Audio Fundamentals

The module involves weekly lectures and class demonstrations. Students are expected to take an active part in the lectures and will be expected to undertake directed tasks. The course content will be divided into two 5-week modules over a single semester.

Computer Notation and Typesetting (e.g. MuseScore) Each week will focus on a systematic, guided approach, introducing a particular set of tools within the software.

Digital Audio (Reaper/Ableton Live)
Each week will focus on a systematic, guided approach, introducing a particular set of tools.

Contexts for Performing

Module Code	ACY1VA
ECTS	5
Module Learning Outcomes	 On successful completion of this module, students should be able to: demonstrate a broad understanding of the evolution of music history pertaining to Western Classical Music and Irish Traditional Music differentiate between composers/prominent exponents and styles of the periods/genres studied and evaluate the different aesthetic approaches taken engage critically with recordings from the periods/genres studied and demonstrate knowledge of the repertoire through analysis and commentary demonstrate knowledge of various methodological approaches to the type of music studied understand and develop an awareness of different social, historical and cultural contexts
Module Content	This module will consist of one component for vocal students: Western Classical Music History Modules in Years 1 and 2 provide an overview of the development of music from c. 1600 to 1945. Students will study the music through genre (Orchestral, Opera, etc.). While students will be introduced to significant composers and compositions that are considered to be part of the canon, they will also study the work of underrepresented composers in attempt to subject the canon to reasoned critique. The material will include in-depth discussion of the broader socio-political and cultural context. There will be a strong emphasis on engaging with scores were applicable, which will develop students' analytical skills as well as listening to recordings which will develop aural skills.
Teaching and Learning Methods	Western Classical Music History (Semesters 1 and 2) This component is taught through weekly 1.5-hour lectures that include listening to music, analysing scores, and directed reading assignments.

Practical Musicianship

Module Code	APY1V
ECTS	5
Module Learning Outcomes	Aural Skills/Sight-singing On successful completion of this module, students should be able to: LO1. demonstrate a basic level of aural competency and literacy LO2. demonstrate an ability to sight-sing/dictate with proficiency LO3. use aural skills to support the development and study of material in the principal study area/music creation LO4. engage in self-directed practice with skill and fluency
	Keyboard Skills On successful completion of this module, students should be able to: LO1. use the keyboard as a tool in the preparation of their vocal repertoire LO2. demonstrate appropriate reading skills LO3. use the keyboard to support the development and study of aural/sight-singing/music creation components LO4. engage in self-directed practice with skill and fluency
Module Content	This module consists of two components: 1. Aural Skills/Sight-singing Skills (S1 +S2) 2. Keyboard Skills (S1 +S2) Aural Skills/Sight-singing Skills (S1 +S2) The rationale for this component is to establish a basic level of aural competency and literacy so that the student can perceive, vocalise and dictate fundamental musical structure (harmonic, melodic and rhythmic) through reading and listening. Topics will include: Sight-singing: systematic training in sight-singing based on the use of tonic solfa involving a progression from simple pentatonic to diatonic major and minor tonalities (single line and two-part). Dictation: systematic instruction in both rhythmic and melodic dictation. The rhythmic dictation will involve the recognition of beats, division of beats, and internal beat patterns, in simple and compound time signatures. The recognition of intervals and triads. Musicianship: the performance of two-part canons, two part vocal excerpts and group performances/sing and play Keyboard Skills (S1 +S2) The rationale for this component is to develop fundamental keyboard skills and confidence to facilitate students in becoming self-directed learners and support their principle study. Material will be tailor made to individual ability.

Music Creation

Module Code	AMY1V
ECTS	5
Module Learning Outcomes	Compositional Techniques On successful completion of this module, students should be able to: LO1. demonstrate a basic level of musical literacy (MF) LO2. demonstrate and apply the fundamentals of musical theory (MF) LO3. analyse and compose suitable melodic material in response to a given phrase and to a given bass line (CT) LO4. analyse and compose basic 4 part harmony, SATB writing (CT)
	Digital Audio Fundamentals On successful completion of this module, students should be able to: LO1. demonstrate the ability to input notes, dynamics and articulations, edit, layout and optimize a computer-based score within notation software (e.g. MuseScore) LO2. extract musical examples from notation software for use in word processor/image-based programs (e.g. musical examples within an essay) and preparing parts for performance, including transposing scores. LO3. Sequence MIDI information to create original compositions and backing tracks through the use of VST (Virtual Studio Technology) instruments. LO4. perform basic editing (extract selections, fades, volume and pan manipulation, effects sends/receives) within a Digital Audio Workstation. LO5. work towards becoming an independent user within a Digital Audio Workstation and develop proficient typesetting ability.
Module Content	This module will consist of two components:

Harmony fundamentals: an introduction to SATB writing

 Topics to include chord formation, cadences, chord progressions, root position and first inversions chords, the dominant seventh chord, contextual analysis etc.

Melody fundamentals: melodic crafting in response to a given phrase with/without bass line to support the understanding of musicianship fundamentals and harmonic fundamentals

Digital Audio Fundamentals

The module will provide a solid foundation in Music Technology, focusing on developing the skill set necessary for the production of user content (scores/worksheets/recordings) and creative pursuits (sequencing, composition). It has strong cross-curricular links with the Compositional Techniques course, and supports the Music History Module and Analysis Components.

This module consists of two components:

- Provide a step by step introduction to computer-based music notation software (e.g. MuseScore) to produce professionalstandard printed/digital musical scores and parts and content for essays/articles and other teaching materials.
- 2. Provide a step by step introduction to sequencing techniques of VST (Virtual Studio Technology) instruments to compose original compositions or arrange high-quality backing tracks.

Topics may include:

Basic typesetting in music notation software (note input, dynamics and articulations).

Figured-bass notation and typesetting lyrics (Solo songs/SATB). Transposition of scores and transposing instruments.

Score editing (layout and score optimization) and preparation of parts.

Extracting musical examples from notation software for use in a word processor/image-based program.

Sequencing in a Digital Audio Workstation through the use of VST instruments. Composition for video (TV Advertisement)

Creative mixing techniques in a Digital Audio Workstation

Teaching and Learning Methods

Both components are taught through a combination of weekly lectures and demonstrations. Students are expected to take an active part in the lectures and will be expected to undertake directed tasks.

Compositional Techniques

The compositional techniques module (including MF) will run throughout both semesters. The sessions require active student participation, weekly preparation, and completion of designated tasks. Strong links will be made with the Practical Musicianship Vocal Strand. Classes will be performance based and will support the ongoing development of aural skills. Links with the Technology component across year 1&2 will be made as appropriate.

PEDAGOGY

APPLIED PEDAGOGY

Module Code	APY1D
ECTS	5 ECTS
Module Learning Outcomes	On successful completion of this module, students should be able to: • Articulate the specific pedagogical principles relating to their chosen instrument • Plan, conduct and evaluate appropriate instrumental lessons • Select repertoire for students appropriate to their level
Module Content	Viva Voce The student will observe a practical teacher, teaching a variety of student levels and engage in seminars and online platforms related to their specialist instrument. A designated practical teacher will work with the student on how to teach specific issues; addressing the 'nuts & bolts' of teaching [eg piano - hand position/pedalling]. Students may bring materials to demonstrate their points. It is the practical teacher's responsibility to prepare the student for this examination. Three areas are to be presented based on/similar to/developed from the particular techniques outlined below: Piano/ Keyboard: finger technique, tone production, scales and arpeggios, sight-reading, aural and/or rhythmic awareness, pedalling, practicing strategies, phrasing, and posture. Strings: fingering, tone production, scales and arpeggios, sight-reading, aural and/or rhythmic awareness, harmonics, articulation, pedal technique (harp), vibrato, intonation, practicing strategies, phrasing and posture. Wind, Brass and Percussion: tone production, scales and arpeggios, sight-reading, aural and/or rhythmic awareness, tonging, breathing, intonation, practicing strategies, phrasing, and posture. Voice: tone production, scales and vocal exercises, sight-singing, aural and/or rhythmic awareness, support, legato singing, practicing strategies, phrasing and posture.
	Case Study The student will take on one pupil internal or external to the RIAM (from Elementary Grade up to Grade V). This case study should focus on the teaching and learning process over 6 consecutive weeks of 30 minutes duration or equivalent. The case study will be monitored by the practical teacher. The Practical teacher must provide a report on the progress and commitment of the student. This report will be reviewed by the examiners at the 'Demonstration lesson Examination'. The completed case study write-up will be presented by the student at the Demonstration Lesson Examination. It will be discussed with the student and a mark awarded. [Case study is weighted at 30%] The case study write-up must provide information about the student, evidence of preparation for the term and evidence of weekly planning and reflection. This will involve the following:

	 Building a profile of the student Plan an outline of what the student should achieve over the 6-week period (forward planning) Review and assess the above plan after a number of weeks. Plan the practical lessons for the student from week to week (lesson planning). Reflective evaluation with honest account of observations The Demonstration Lesson, and Viva Voce The student will be required to give a Demonstration lesson of their pupil

PRINCIPLES OF PEDAGOGY

Module Code	PPY1D
ECTS	5 ECTS
Module Learning Outcomes	 On successful completion of this module, students should be able to: Articulate the role of the instrumental teacher from a theoretical and practical perspective Articulate general pedagogical principles Develop a clear personal teaching philosophy Plan and evaluate instrumental lessons pre-college instrument/vocal students Identify and describe in detail the stages of musical development in the context of instrumental teaching Competently deal with common issues that can arise in the instrumental lesson Undertake research and present findings in oral and written format to peer groups and/or other specialist /non-specialist audiences
Module Content	Semester 1 Students will attend and actively participate in a series of lectures. Top may include the following areas: The Instrumental/Vocal Teacher in the 21st Century Planning and Profiling: A Practical Approach Assessment in Instrumental/Vocal Teaching Principles and Philosophies relating to Kodály, Dalcroze, Suzuki and Omusic Potential and related theories of Musical Development Learning Styles, Memory, Practice and Sight-reading Learning Difficulties Performance Anxiety Semester 2 Semester two will explore the topics introduced in Semester 1 in great detail with an increased focus on reflective practice and peer based learning. Students will explore the area of teacher identity and gather necessary practical tools to assist them in the transition from theory to practice. During this module students will participate in a microteachin session (pass/fail) and will have an opportunity to observe and critique their developing teacher identities.

Module Code	PCY4K
ECTS	5
Module Learning Outcomes	On successful completion of this module, students should be able to: 11a, 14a, 2b, 5c, 13c
Module Content	Conducting Elements studied will consist of basic conducting techniques with and without Baton. All common times signatures will be studied as well as relevant musical styles. Tempo, dynamics and articulation will also be addressed. The course will also deliver insights into issues directly related to the student. These will include choral and orchestral conducting, rehearsal technique and accompaniment of solo singers (to include recitative), and instrumentalists. The study of score reading and analysis will be an element which will also address the study of clefs, transposition, form and harmonic implications of a given work.

ASSESSMENTS AND REGULATIONS

MARKING SYSTEM

The results of the individually assessed components for each student will be considered by a formally constituted Board of Examiners which will consider all relevant matters pertaining to a student's level of attainment across all examinations and declare a recommended result in respect of each student.

Distinction 70% and above P1 60% - 69% P2 50% - 59% P3 40% - 49%

All module marks will be rounded to the nearest number [e.g. 59.5 and over is 60, 59.4 and under is 59].

ATTENDANCE

Principal Study and Performing in Context

Students who fail to attend without a certified and sanctioned excuse will have marks deducted as follows:

- 2½% for any 2 unexplained absences
- 5% for any 4 unexplained absences
- 7½% for any 6 unexplained absences etc.
- Penalties incurred for Performance Classes will be deducted from the overall Performance mark [weighted at 60% of their year's total marks].
- Such deductions will be made for all absences [without a certified and sanctioned excuse] without limit, and persistent non-attendance could result in failing the year.

Orchestral Protocol:

100% attendance is expected. All musicians must attend all rehearsals. Performance projects may include weekends and evening hours.

If too ill to attend, students must contact the Orchestra Manager and must provide a doctor's note certifying illness.

Rehearsals begin at the stated times and students are expected to be in their seat, warmed up and ready to tune 5 minutes before the start of each rehearsal.

If a student is late for a rehearsal, their maximum awarded mark will be capped in Category C. If a student is late for 2 rehearsals, their maximum awarded mark will be capped in Category D. A student who is persistently late (3 times or more) will fail their Orchestral Assessment.

Except where there is duly certified or other approved reason, student absence automatically results in failure of the Orchestral Assessment. This may result in failure of the Performing in Context module following referral to the relevant Standing Committee and ratification at the Court of Examiners.

Chorale and Non-orchestral Protocol:

- Full (100%) attendance is compulsory for all RIAM ensembles. Performance projects may include weekends and evening hours.
- Except where there is duly certified or other approved reason, students who miss a rehearsal or performance will be removed from the ensemble for that specific performance project and will bear a 10% deduction off their overall performance mark (weighted at 60% of their year's total marks)
- A further unexplained absence in a further performance project will bear an additional 10% deduction and the student will again be removed from that project.
- Such deductions shall be made for all absences without limit, and persistent non-attendance could result in failing the year.

Academics and RIAM Holistic

100% attendance is expected at all lectures and tutorials. Failure to do so will result in the following penalties: 5% will be deducted from the relevant module/component where students only attend a maximum of 80%

PERFORMANCE EXAMINATIONS

All programmes must be agreed with the student and their principal study tutor. Throughout the entire course, any work or study performed at examination may not be repeated again in any subsequent examination unless the work or study has only been performed in part and not as a whole in a previous examination. Urtext editions are recommended where possible and available.

Programme Notes

Programme note requirements are as outlined per faculty.

Memory Requirements

Memory requirements are as outlined per faculty.

Copies of Music

Students must provide two copies of music for each examination panel. Photocopies of music texts must not be used in examinations unless prior written permission has been obtained from the publisher, in which case the permission must be shown to the examination panel before the examination takes place. Any other exceptions (e.g. copying a single page for difficult page turns etc.) should be in line with the Code of Fair Practice (1992) published by the Music Publishers' Association. [3rd Floor, Strandgate, 18-20 York Building, London WC2N 6JU].

In all examinations, the examiners' decision is final. Please consult RIAM Policies for appeals criteria and procedure.

MARKING CRITERIA

- 1. Performance
- 2. Chamber Music
- 3. Academic Writing
- 4. Dissertation5. Music Technology/Composition

	Marking Criteria: Performance
Distinction
80% - 99%	 Technique An extremely assured and technically accomplished performance Maintained a totally convincing sense of control throughout the performance Highly polished and accomplished; always convincing in this regard Interpretation A profound understanding of style and of the pieces performed A richly imagined and memorable performance with great individuality always in abundance A deeply insightful performance; thoroughly convincing Performance Totally committed and convincing throughout; a gripping account Profoundly communicative and effective; a confident and highly professional performance full of élan Full of flair and polish; a strong sense of artistry
70% - 79%	Technique Very technically assured Hardly any lapses of control or none of any significance Highly polished and accomplished; always convincing in this regard Interpretation A deep understanding of style and of the pieces performed A high degree of individuality with a significantly imaginative interpretation Showed a continuously high degree of insight throughout the performance; wholly convincing in this regard Performance A highly committed and convincing performance Great poise and confidence in evidence; always communicative A significant degree of flair and polish

P1
66% - 69%	Technique
	Mostly technically assured
	Some issues/lapses of control but not many
	 In some short passages the performance may have been slightly marred by technical glitches
	Interpretation
	Good understanding of style
	Has individuality but more subtlety of imagination required
	Has some degree of insight; quite convincing in this regard
	Performance
	Demonstrates commitment and concentration
	 Displays confidence and poise and was communicative Evidence of some flair

60% - 65%	Technique
	Fairly technically assured
	 Some technical issues and perhaps limitations in control
	 Slightly marred the performance overall
	Interpretation
	 More individuality and awareness of musical style needed
	 Requires a wider variety of expression
	 Requires more insight; somewhat convincing though
	Performance
	 Generally confident with some sense of involvement
	 Displayed some poise and was mostly communicative
	 Signs of some restriction which limits a sense of flair; shows good potential though

Technique
Reliable technically but lacks versatility and ease
Flaws in technical control
Marred performance overall
Interpretation
Displayed some stylistic understanding
 A rather standard approach; lacks individuality
 Limited in insight into the music and not always convincing
Performance
 Reasonably confident (most of the time) with some sense of involvement
Though communicative it lacked poise
Shows potential and demonstrates solid preparation though lacking in flair
Technique
 Reasonable technically, though this restricted the musical interpretation
The technique marred the overall impression somewhat
Notable flaws in technical control
Interpretation
 Displayed a somewhat narrow stylistic understanding
Overall a rather standard approach
 Occasional insights into the music but overall unconvincing in this regard
Performance
Fairly confident but lacking in involvement
Not always communicative
Preparation in evidence but not always solid

P3
46% - 49%	Technique
40% - 45%	Technique

Fail
0% - 39%	Technique

Marking Criteria: Chamber Music

Distinction
80% - 99%	 A committed and integral contribution to an ensemble working at an exceptional level Technically accomplished and richly imagined A mature sense of artistry and flair Profoundly communicative with a convincing understanding of style An adaptable understanding of role
70% - 79%	 A significant contribution to an ensemble working at an excellent level Technically assured and polished A significant imagination with flair and poise A responsive ensemble player, communicating with confidence
60% - 69%	 A recognisable contribution to an ensemble working at a good level Mostly technically assured and confident A good understanding of style, but requires a wider variety of expression Mostly communicative and with evidence of adaptability
P2
50% - 59%	 A basic contribution to an ensemble working at an acceptable level Fairly technically assured Greater listening skills and more awareness is needed to effectively work an communicate within a group Some understanding of style with limited variety of expression Preparation is evident Generally confident with some sense of involvement
P3
40% - 49%	 Some contribution to an ensemble working at a reasonable level Technically limited. Unstable ensemble with a lack of awareness and communication A limited stylistic understanding and overall unconvincing approach with an unclear direction or plan Better preparation is required
Fail
0% - 39%	Limited contribution to an ensemble working at an unacceptable level

problems

Little evidence of musical understanding

• A general lack of communication and an incoherent approach

• Lack of preparation, technical ability and/or control resulting in serious ensemble

Marking Criteria: Academic Writing

The purpose of this document is to make explicit as far as possible the current practice concerning the grading of written work in the Faculty. It is not intended to change current practice but to provide a framework that can be used by staff to explain the marks awarded to examination answers and other forms of written assignment, and to assist students to interpret the marks that they receive.

Grading written work usually involves an overall assessment based on a multitude of dimensions. This document attempts to identify the dimensions that are normally the most important in this respect. Of course, the dimensions identified do not covary in a one-to-one manner. It may be that a particular piece of written work would rate very highly on some dimensions but less highly on others. Thus examiners must make a balanced evaluation that takes into account the quality of the work in a holistic way. Inevitably, therefore, the judgement of the examiner is to some extent subjective and based upon experience and traditional practice. It is for this reason that the grading of novice examiners is usually subject to the scrutiny of more experienced ones, and consensual standards are achieved by a number of practices such as cross-marking and the employment of external examiners.

The bases for the assessment of any piece of work are ultimately derived from the educational objectives of the course/ assessment. Work that demonstrates that the objectives of the course/ assessment have been achieved will have a number of characteristics. It will be comprehensive and accurate, and will exhibit a detailed knowledge of the relevant material as well as a broad base of knowledge. It will demonstrate a high level of ability to evaluate and integrate information and ideas, to deal with knowledge in a critical way, and to reason and argue in a logical way. Where relevant it will also demonstrate a high level of ability to analyse information, to make sense of material, to solve problems, to generate new ideas and concepts and to apply knowledge to new situations. The presentation of information, arguments and conclusions will be clear and articulate and the writing style will be fluent and accurate. (These characteristics are essentially the same as those listed below as being the features of P1 work).

No set of guidelines can cover every eventuality. Examiners are likely to reward creativity, originality and insight, or work of particular merit however presented. Evidence of study of material outside that set by lecturers and work which goes beyond the standard interpretation of the subject is also likely to be recognised when marks are awarded. In addition, it is to be expected that examiners will reward written work more highly if it exemplifies good English (or the language in which it is written, if some other language is appropriate). Poor grammar and incorrect spelling inevitably detract from the evaluation of written work. In addition, students are reminded that poor handwriting may make it impossible for the examiner to fully understand what has been written; examiners can only mark what they can read.

Brief descriptions are provided below of the qualities that are likely to be associated with work that would be regarded as typical of each of the various classes of honours that can be awarded. These descriptions are not specific to any particular level of examination: they can be applied equally to students in their first and final year, and to students who are taking a course as a minor component of their degree, outside their main area of study. Examiners take these factors into account when evaluating work, and will normally have different expectations of the absolute level of performance of different groups of students. Nevertheless, these descriptions provide a basis for making relative judgements between students within any particular group.

The Faculty comprises a group of diverse subjects, and it is likely that a somewhat different set of criteria will be applicable in each of the subject areas. Individual Schools, Departments and Centres within the Faculty may find it appropriate, therefore, to issue a further set of guidelines that adds to these general guidelines or adapts them to its own specific circumstances.

The threshold standard for the award of an honours classification is that required for P3 honours. Work below this standard is awarded a fail grade.

Fail (0-39)

The 'fail' grade is sometimes broken down into two bands: F1 and F2. An answer at the F1 level (30-39) represents a failure to answer the question adequately, but the possession of at least some relevant information. The failure to provide an appropriate answer may be due to a misunderstanding of the question, or to one or more of the following deficiencies: it may contain only a small amount of relevant information, the material itself may have been misunderstood, the answer may be poorly or incoherently presented, or the answer may not relate to the question asked. An answer at the F2 level (0-29) normally contains no or only the most minimal amount of information relating to the question, or may demonstrate a complete misunderstanding of the question, or a misunderstanding of the material relevant to its answer such as to render the answer meaningless. Work at Fail level tends to have few positive characteristics, except possibly when the grade has been awarded because of the inclusion of a major error, the presence of which is sufficiently important to outweigh any positive features of the answer. It is also possible for an otherwise good piece of work to be awarded a Fail grade because it fails to answer the question posed. The absence of positive characteristics could also result from the fact that the answer is very short (e.g., when a student runs out of time in an examination and writes very little).

Work awarded a Fail grade tends to possess some or all of the following negative characteristics:

- Represents a failure to answer the question (though may be an answer to a different question).
- Shows no or only a little evidence of understanding of the topic.
- Shows no or only very little evidence of relevant reading or research.
- Includes no or very few relevant ideas.
- Does not contain a structured argument.
- Does not offer evidence to justify assertions.
- Does not include relevant examples.
- Contains multiple or major errors.

P3 (40-49)

Work at this level contains evidence of study of the appropriate material and displays a level of presentation at least minimally commensurate with the award of an honours degree, but it often reflects only a limited familiarity with the standard literature and/or methods of the subject. A P3 answer constitutes at least a minimal attempt to answer the question posed, but the answer may omit key points and/or contain assertions not supported by appropriate evidence. It may display superficiality in understanding and/or the use of material, an over reliance on knowledge at the expense of development or argument, analysis or discussion, and it may lack continuity, or be inadequately organised. Nonetheless, work at this level does show an ability to refer to some standard sources, ideas, methods or techniques normally applied in the subject and to achieve some success in solving problems or marshalling an argument to reach a conclusion.

What differentiates a P3 piece of work from one that fails is that a third comprises an attempt to answer the question informed by some relevant information and without any major error, while a fail either does not contain an adequate attempt to answer the question, or does not contain sufficient relevant information, or contains at least one significant error.

Work at P3 level may possess some or all of the following positive characteristics: Attempts to answer the question.

Shows modest evidence of understanding of the topic.

Shows modest evidence of relevant reading or research.

Includes a few relevant ideas.

May include some relevant examples.

Work at P3 level may possess some or all of the following negative characteristics: The attempt to answer the question may not be very successful.

Does not contain a sufficiently well-structured argument.

Does not offer sufficient evidence to justify assertions.

Does not include sufficient relevant examples.

Lacks lucidity.

Contains one or more important errors.

P2 (50-59)

Work at P2 level displays a knowledge of the standard material and approaches of the subject and a familiarity with much of the standard literature and/or methods. A P2 answer may constitute a relatively simplistic answer to the question, and is likely to be based on a narrow range of sources, such as lecture notes and the basic required reading, rather than being indicative of wider reading. It usually displays a basic ability to use relevant sources, methods or techniques normally applied in the subject to achieve some success in solving problems or marshalling arguments to reach a conclusion. The work may show some inconsistency in standard, may contain occasional technical or factual flaws, and may exhibit some difficulties with the organisation of material or with the full understanding of a problem or issue, but it is adequately presented and may include some critical judgement applied to analysis or the application of standard ideas or methods.

What differentiates a P2 piece of work from one awarded a P3 grade is the greater success of the P2 in answering the question, together with the possession of more relevant information, a more coherent argument and an improved structure, although neither the answer to the question nor the structure may be incapable of improvement.

Work at P2 level will tend to possess some or all of the following positive characteristics:

Attempts to answer the question.

Shows evidence of a basic to good understanding of the topic.

Shows evidence of some relevant reading or research.

Includes some relevant ideas.

Includes some relevant examples.

Work at P2 level may possess some or all of the following negative characteristics:

- The attempt to answer the question may not be completely successful.
- Does not contain a sufficiently well-structured argument.
- Does not offer sufficient evidence to justify assertions.
- Does not include sufficient relevant examples.
- The style of writing could be improved.
- Lacks lucidity.
- May contain some minor errors.

P1 (60-69)

Work at P1 level displays a sound and clear understanding of the subject and demonstrates a good grasp of a wide range of the standard literature and/or methods and techniques of the subject. A P1 answer constitutes a well-organised and structured answer to the question, which is reasonably comprehensive, generally accurate and well informed. It will normally demonstrate a greater breadth of knowledge than would be gained merely from the lecture notes and basic required reading. It will demonstrate some ability to evaluate and integrate information and ideas, to deal with knowledge in a critical way, and to reason and argue in a logical way. Where relevant it will also demonstrate an ability to analyse information, to make sense of material, to solve problems, to generate new ideas and concepts and to apply knowledge to new situations. The presentation of information, arguments and conclusions will be clear and well written.

What differentiates A P1 piece of work from one awarded a P2 is the greater success in answering the question, the additional understanding displayed, the greater evidence of additional reading, the improved structure and organisation, the superior quality of the argument, and the level of critical thinking displayed.

Thus a P1 piece of work shows positive characteristics such as:

- Answers the question clearly and fully.
- Has a good structure and organisation.
- Shows evidence of a very good understanding of the topic.
- Shows clear evidence of relevant reading and research.
- Clearly explains relevant theory and cites relevant evidence.
- Contains reasoned argument and comes to a logical conclusion.
- Includes highly relevant ideas.
- Uses relevant examples.
- Demonstrates the ability to apply learning to new situations and to solve problems.
- Is well written.
- Lacks errors of any significant kind.

P1 work usually has few negative characteristics, but may be limited in the sense that it:

- Could demonstrate more in the way of insight, imagination, originality or creativity.
- Does not answer the question in as fully and comprehensive a manner as would be possible.
- Could demonstrate more ability to integrate information.
- Could exhibit more critical thinking.
- Could exhibit more independence of thought.

Distinction (70-100)

Distinction work represents an excellent to outstanding performance demonstrating a thorough understanding of the subject. In addition to a mastery of a wide to full range of the standard literature and/or methods and techniques of the subject, work at this level shows independence of judgement and evidence of attainment beyond the standard material. It will frequently demonstrate characteristics such as insight, imagination, originality and creativity. A Distinction answer will represent a comprehensive and accurate answer to the question, which will exhibit a detailed knowledge of the relevant material as well as a broad base of knowledge. Theory and evidence will be well integrated and the selection of sources, ideas, methods or techniques will be well judged and appropriately organised to address the relevant issue or problem. It will demonstrate a high level of ability to evaluate and integrate information and ideas, to deal with knowledge in a critical way, and to reason and argue in a logical way. Where relevant it will also demonstrate a high level of ability to analyse information, to make sense of material, to solve problems, to generate new ideas and concepts and to apply knowledge to new situations. The presentation of information, arguments and conclusions will be fluent and clearly written and may also show particular lucidity in expression appropriate to the subject.

What differentiates a Distinction piece of work from one awarded a P1 is a greater lucidity, a greater independence of judgement, a greater depth of insight and degree of originality, more evidence of an ability to integrate material, and evidence of a greater breadth of reading and research in the first that is not present in the P1.

Thus a Distinction piece of work shows positive characteristics such as:

- Answers the question clearly and comprehensively, in a focused way.
- Has an excellent structure and organisation.
- Demonstrates characteristics such as insight, imagination, originality and creativity.
- Demonstrates the ability to integrate information.
- Exhibits sound critical thinking.
- Exhibits independence of judgement.
- Clearly explains relevant theory and cites relevant evidence.
- Contains reasoned argument and comes to a logical conclusion.
- Gives evidence of wide relevant reading.
- Includes a sufficient number of appropriate examples.
- Demonstrates a clear comprehension of the subject.
- Demonstrates the ability to apply learning to new situations and to solve problems.
- Is lucid and well written.
- Lacks errors of any significant kind.

All pieces of Distinction work may not have all of the characteristics above, but all such work will have few, if any, negative characteristics

Marking Criteria: Dissertation

Introduction [15 marks]

Distinction: 70% - 100%

The focus of the study is excellently articulated

The purpose of the study is clearly related to the student's own practice, the context of which has been excellently outlined

P1: 60 - 69%

The focus of the study is very well articulated

The research context is very well established

The student provides a very good account of how the study relates to their own practice

P2: 50 - 59%

The student clearly states the focus of the study

The context within which the study takes places is well-established

The student provides a good account of how the project relates to their own practice.

P3: 40 - 49%

The student satisfactorily outlines the focus of the study.

There is a reasonable attempt to establish the context of the study.

The student provides a satisfactory account how the project relates to their own practice.

Fail: 0% - 39%

The student does not clearly outline the focus of the study.

The context is not well established. The student does not obviously identify how the project relates to their own practice.

Review of Literature [25 marks]

Distinction: 70% - 100%

The literature is excellently chosen in terms of relevance and consistency with the research topic

The literature is up-to-date and is outstanding in terms of breadth and depth

The author demonstrates an excellent level of critique in engaging with the literature

P1: 60 - 69%

The chosen literature is very good in terms of its relevance and its consistency with the research topic

The literature is up-to-date and is very good in terms of breadth and depth. The paper contains very good critique of the literature

P2: 50 - 59%

- The literature is good in terms of relevance and consistency with the research topic
- Some of the literature is up-to-date and good in terms of breadth and depth
- There is occasional critique of the literature chosen

P3:40 - 49%

While some literature has been reviewed it is limited in terms of scope

Much of the relevant literature has been omitted

There is a lack of critique of any of the literature

Fail: 0% - 39%

The literature is unacceptably narrow, lacks focus in terms of the research topic and omits key texts and contributors

Methodology [15 marks]

Distinction: 70% - 100%

The methodology has been excellently chosen in terms of relevance to research topic, taking into consideration a wide range of methodological literature

A comprehensive argument is made in support of the choice of the methodology

The limitations of the methodology are clearly outlined. Any pertinent ethical issues are excellently discussed.

P1: 60 - 69%

- The methodology has been very well chosen in terms of relevance to research topic, taking into consideration a very good range of methodological literature
- The arguments made in support of the choice of methodology are logical and very well made
- Any pertinent ethical issues are coherently discussed

P2: 50 - 59%

The methodology is quite relevant to the research topic.

A good review of the methodology literature is provided with some arguments made in support of the methodology

The author provides good discussion of the limitations and ethical implications of this methodology

P3: 40 - 49%

• The methodology chosen is somewhat appropriate for the research topic

Some relevant methodology is discussed, with reference to a limited selection of literature Discussions of the limitations and ethical implications of the methodology are quite limited

Fail: 0% - 39%

The methodology is inappropriate in terms of the research topic. Scant attention has been paid to the methodology literature and there are serious gaps in terms of the limitations and ethical implications of the methodology

Findings, Analysis and Discussion [30 marks]

Distinction: 70% - 100%

- The author presents the data in an excellent manner
- Superb use of the literature is used to critically examine the data
- The author is highly insightful in terms of the arguments made within the discussion and there is a clear link between the conclusions and the data
- The author demonstrates an excellent level of critique in engaging with the literature

P1: 60 - 69%

The data is presented very clearly and cogently

Very good use is made of the literature in order to offer critical examination of the data

A range of insightful arguments are made within the discussion and very good links are established between the conclusions and the data

P2: 50 - 59%

The data is presented in a clear and unambiguous manner

The author makes good use of the literature to offer some critical examination of the data

Some insightful arguments are made within the discussion and appropriate links are evident between the conclusions and the data

P3: 40 - 49%

- The data is presented in a mediocre manner but may be confusing in parts
- There is very little integration of the literature in the discussion of the data, with scant critical examination of the data. Links between the data and conclusions are weak

Fail: 0 - 39%

The data is presented in a confusing manner

The author fails to use the literature in critiquing the data

Conclusions are inappropriate in terms of the data presented

Presentation and Format [15 marks]

Distinction: 70% - 100%

The author displays skilled use of academic conventions with format and structure followed superbly and consistently throughout

The dissertation is systematically and clearly organised

The author has paid excellent attention to the accurate formation of the bibliography and referencing system

P1: 60 - 69%

The author displays very good use of academic conventions with format and structure followed consistently throughout

The dissertation is systematically organised

The author has paid very good attention to the accurate formation of the bibliography and referencing system

P2: 50 - 59%

- The author displays good use of academic conventions with format and structure followed well and relatively consistently throughout
- The dissertation is organised well throughout
- The bibliography is relatively well presented and the referencing system is relatively well followed however some mistakes are evident

P3: 40 - 49%

- Academic conventions are adhered to in a sporadic fashion. The dissertation is not well organised
- The bibliography is weak and many mistakes are evident in the references presented

Fail: 0% - 39%

Academic conventions are generally ignored

The dissertation is unorganised

The bibliography is very weak and references are inaccurate or absent

Marking Criteria: Music Technology/Composition

Quality and originality of ideas [40 marks]

Distinction: 70% - 100%

Strong evidence of original musical language and thought

Ability to absorb influences into an individual style

P1: 60%- 69%

Evidence of original musical thought

Ideas with strong profile

P2: 50% - 59%

Strong ideas with less individual quality

Influences not fully absorbed but fluency of ideas evident

P3: 40% - 49%

Acceptable level of musical thought showing fluency but not much originality

Fail: 0 - 39%

Poor level of musical invention

Quality of musical technique [30 marks]

Distinction: 70% - 100%

Great technical assurance and adventurousness in the statement and development of ideas Strong command of sonic manipulation and creation through software, as appropriate

P1: 60% - 69%

- Strong technical assurance in handling ideas with less daring than the above
- · Good command of software capabilities, as appropriate

P2: 50% - 59%

Good overall grasp of statement of ideas but showing less capacity for development

Good command of software capabilities, as appropriate

P3: 40% - 49%

- Acceptable grasp of statement and development of ideas, showing competence without much adventurousness
- · Acceptable command of software capabilities, as appropriate

Fail: 0 - 39%

Poor overall quality in statement and development of ideas and use of software

Strong command of sonic manipulation and creation through software, as appropriate

Quality of presentation [20 marks]

Distinction: 70% - 100%

Professional level of presentation materials (CDs, technical requirements etc.)

The student shows a full grasp of the layout and presentation level needed for professional performance.

P1: 60% - 69%

Strong level of presentation of materials with perhaps some adjustments needed

P2: 50 - 59%

Good overall grasp of presentation issues but with less grasp of the demands of the performance situation. Some intervention needed to deal with these issues.

P3:40 - 49%

Acceptable level of presentation.

Issues involving, for example, technical notes on performance requirements.

Fail: 0 - 39%

Poor level of presentation showing little grasp of the technical requirements and demands of performance.

Commentary [10 Marks]

Distinction: 70% - 100%

Excellent grasp of aesthetic and technical issues shown in clearly written prose

Strong critical engagement with the analytic literature including recent periodical literature (where relevant) Scholarly presentation

P1: 60% - 69%

Very good grasp of aesthetic and technical issues Good awareness of the analytic literature

Scholarly presentation

P2: 50% - 59%

- Good grasp of aesthetic and technical issues
- Engagement with the literature but not in a critical way
- Articulate presentation of ideas

P3: 40% - 49%

Acceptable if unadventurous grasp of the aesthetic and technical issues

Articulate presentation

Little engagement with the literature

Fail: 0 - 39%

- Poor grasp of aesthetic and technical issues
- Poorly argued

COMPENSATION IN EXAMINATIONS

Principal Study

Students must attend and pass each component (i.e., compensation is not possible)

Performing in Context

Students must undertake/submit every assessment component. Students must average 40%, while also achieving at least 35% in each assessment component. If a student achieves less than 35% in an assessment component, the student must retake that component as a supplemental exam. If a student achieves less than 35% overall, the student must retake all components.

Academics

Students must undertake/submit every assessment component.

It is not possible to compensate across the three pillars (i.e., not between Music Creation and Practical Musicianship).

Students can compensate within a pillar (i.e., within Contexts for Performing, it is possible to compensate between Western Classical Music History and Popular Music Studies/Ethnomusicology once the failed module is at least 35%).

Within a module (i.e., within Western Classical Music History), students must average 40% (or 36% if they are eligible to compensate within the pillar), while also achieving at least 35% in each assessment component. If a student achieves less than 35% in an assessment component, the student must retake that component as a supplemental exam. If a student achieves less than 35% overall, the student must retake all components.

Holistic

Students must submit both components of the assessment. Students must average 40% while also achieving at least 35% in each assessment component.

PENALTIES

Duration of Performance Exams

Performance exams include a time band with a specified minimum and maximum duration. Students who play under the minimum or over the maximum duration of a performance exam will incur an initial 3 mark deduction followed by an increase of 1 mark per minute up to a max of 10 marks.

Academics and RIAM Holistic

Students must submit all work assigned for Academics and RIAM Holistic.

Any work that is received up to one week after the official due date for submission will receive a deduction of 10% of the mark from that assignment.

Any work that is received between one week and up to two weeks following the official due date will receive a deduction of 20% of the mark from that assignment.

Any work that is received later than two weeks from the official due date will receive a mark of zero for that assignment.

In order to receive an extension, you must fill out an assignment extension sheet that can be downloaded from Moodle and then submitted to your lecturer and relevant Head of Faculty. Please note if you wish to apply for an extension on your assignment, you need to have a valid reason supported by relevant documentation (for example, a certificate from a doctor).

ETHICS AND RESEARCH MISCONDUCT

Ethics

Research projects may require ethical approval by the relevant institution. Students are advised to consult with their supervisor in the first instance. Advice may be sought from the Head of Programmes and Research.

The ethics committee comprises:

- Head of Programmes and Research
- Head of DMus Academics
- Academic faculty members

Research Misconduct

This is defined as but is not limited to fabrication, falsification or plagiarism in proposing, performing, or reviewing research or original compositions, or in reporting research results.

Fabrication

Fabrication is making up data or results and recording or reporting them

Falsification

Falsification is manipulating research materials, equipment, or processes, or changing, distorting, dishonestly misinterpreting or omitting data or results such that the research is not accurately represented in the research record.

Plagiarism is the appropriation of another person's ideas, processes, results, or words without giving appropriate credit, or dishonest use of unacknowledged sources. Plagiarism is interpreted by the Royal Irish Academy of Music as the act of presenting the work of others as one's own work, without acknowledgement. Plagiarism is considered as academically fraudulent and an offence against college discipline. The RIAM considers plagiarism to be a major offence and subject to disciplinary procedures. It is the responsibility of the student to ensure that he/she does not commit plagiarism.

Why plagiarism is regarded as such a serious offence?

It is clearly understood that all members of the academic community use and build on the work of others. It is commonly accepted also, however, that they build on the work of others in an open and explicit manner, and with due acknowledgement. Many cases of plagiarism that arise could be avoided by following some simple guidelines:

- Any material used in a piece of work, of any form, that is not the original thought of the author should be fully referenced in the work and attributed to its source. The material should either be quoted directly or paraphrased. Either way, an explicit citation of the work referred to should be provided, in the text, in a footnote, or both. Not to do so is to commit plagiarism.
- When taking notes from any source it is very important to record the precise words or ideas that are being used and their precise sources.
- Although the Internet often offers a wider range of possibilities for researching particular themes, it also requires particular attention to be paid to the distinction between one's own work and the work of others. Particular care should be taken to keep track of the source of the electronic information obtained from the Internet or other electronic sources and ensure that it is explicitly and correctly acknowledged.

How can plagiarism arise?

Plagiarism can arise from deliberate actions and also through careless thinking and/or methodology. The offence lies not in the attitude or intention of the perpetrator, but in the action and in its consequences. Plagiarism can arise from actions such as:

- Copying another student's work in full or in part and presenting it as one's own
- Submitting the same work as a peer without having sought the approval of the lecturer and without having sufficiently individualised the work
- Enlisting another person or persons to complete an assignment on the student's behalf
- Quoting directly, without acknowledgement, from books, articles or other sources, either in printed, recorded or electronic format
- Paraphrasing, without acknowledgement, the writings of other authors.

Is information available about plagiarism?

All students must undertake TCD's Ready, Steady, Write online course. Advice about how to avoid plagiarism is available from the librarians, lecturers, teachers and supervisors. Advice is also available about the appropriate methodology for students to use for their work. It is the students' responsibility to make sure their work is not used by others without acknowledgement. The student whose work is used unreferenced by another is considered an accomplice in the act of plagiarism
